Exhibition Printing Pricelist

Undertaking an exhibition of your own work can be a daunting challenge. Here at Rush Digital Printing we fully understand the necessity for a professional, controlled and planned approach where deadlines are given and kept and where you are put in control of all aspects of your printing from initial consultation through to final output. We have extensive experience working and printing exhibitions with a range of artists and photographers for exhibition in galleries and museums such as Belfast Exposed, The Golden Thread, The Mac, Ulster Museum, Ulster University and many others.

We can offer you varying degrees of service assistance to best match your needs. You can book an initial free consultation with one of our expert printers, all of whom have experience of both preparing, printing and undertaking their own professional exhibitions and working on a range of other exhibiting photographers and artists.

At Rush Digital Printing we can offer you a comprehensive digital editing and support service. You should never feel that you are on your own in what can be sometimes a daunting and nervous time as you manage all aspects of your exhibition. We try and answer as many of your questions as we can in our frequently updated FAQ's (Frequently asked Questions) page.

We can advise you on file preparation, offer opinions on file selection, file size, image borders, paper selection, mounting and even framing. We can give you comprehensive estimates for printing, mounting and put you in touch with a range of proven and experienced exhibition framers. We will agree deadlines and we always suggest that you have us test print your exhibition images before going to a final print run.

However, if you feel that you are still unsure whether your collaboration with us will incur additional charges for digital editing or if you simply prefer working closer with us in preparation of digital files then please see our list of Digital Editing Services below or call us on 02895219229 or drop us an email: info@rush-digital-printing.com

Remember that we can offer you an initial Free Exhibition Consultation to fully assess your needs. This should be booked well in advance(4 weeks minimum) of your installation date.

Standard Digital Editing Service

The vast majority of images supplied to Rush Digital Printing are sent as .Tiff, High Quality .JPEG or as PDF files using a file transfer service like WeTransfer, Dropbox or Google Drive. These image files are saved at 300 dpi, at the output print size, and have borders already added to the files. Everything is ready to go to print. There are no additional charges other than what is listed on the appropriate price list.

Limited Assistance Digital Editing Service

As it suggests, Rush Digital Printing Limited Assisted Digital Editing Service will check through your image files making sure that your image resolution, size, borders etc are as they should be. If only minor adjustments are necessary, we will inform you first and in most cases, carry out any necessary changes to your files with no extra charge. If your images require the intervention of one of our digital experts to crop, resize or make colour adjustments then this will become a chargeable service at a cost of £30.00 per half hour. You will be informed in advance of any possible charges and any necessary remedial work on your image files will be detailed. To avoid additional charges please visit our Frequently Asked Questions (link to FAQ) page for advice on file preparation.

Fully Supported One-to-one Digital Editing Service

Rush Digital Printing Fully Supported One-to One Digital Editing Service is for artists and photographers who want to maintain full control of their printing from image delivery all the way through to finished prints. You will work alongside a dedicated printing expert, and agree all aspects of your image file preparation from image size, addition of borders, retouching, colour adjustments and print testing on your chosen paper. This service is for artists working on the production of full gallery exhibitions or for those wanting to produce limited edition prints to the highest possible standards. Rush Digital Printing Fully Supported One-to One service is charged at £30.00 per half hour with test prints at A4 costing £7.00 and test strips costing £3.50 each. This service must be booked at least two weeks in advance of any print deadlines.